HAUNTED BY FLAMES.

Talmage's Brooklyn Tabernacle Again Totally Destroyed.

A BIG HOTEL ALSO WIPED OUT.

The Fire Spread to Adjoining Buildings, and the Total Loss Will Reach Nearly Two Million Dollars—The Catastrophe Undoubtedly Caused by Electric Wires.

BROOKLYN, May 14.—"Talmage's Tabernacle burned down," is an old story in Brooklyn. Three times has it been told to the world, and just at present it is a question if there will ever be another "Talmage's Tabernacle" in Brooklyn, though pledges of assistance have already been made since the structure was destroyed at noon yesterday. This edifice, the fourth in which the doctor has preached in Brooklyn, was situated on the northerly side of Greene avenue, and extended from Clinton avenue on the west to Waverly avenue, 200 feet away. Adjoining the church was the Hotel Regent, eight stories in height, with a frontage of 90 feet on Clinton avenue and extending back 200 feet to Waverly avenue. The fire spread from the Tabernacle to this hotel, and then to the dwelling houses on Greene avenue and Waverly avenue opposite the church. Both the Tabernacle and hotel were totally destroyed. The wind carried the blazing cinders in such quantities in a southeasterly direction that dwelling houses on Washington avenue, two squares away and also the Summerfield Methodist church were set on fire by them, but the greatest loss on any of these structures did not exceed $15,000. The total loss, however, reaches nearly $2,000,000.

When informed of the fire Dr Talmage commanded the few people remaining to leave the church, and they lost no time obeying the command. Two of the trustees, who were in their room in the tower, were overcome by smoke and had to be carried out. Within ten minutes after the first alarm had been given the church was doomed and the flames had extended to the Hotel Regent, which was soon beyond control of the firemen.

There were not wanting dramatic incidents during the day. From the fifth floor of the hotel Mrs. Loomis, one of the guests, and her newly born babe had to be carried down the fire escape to the streets. Mother and child were removed to the Seney hospital, where they are said to be in no danger. Just as Mrs Loomis had been rescued from what might have been a horrible death a woman appeared at a window on the eighth floor, frantically shrieking and waving her hands to the horror stricken crowd below. In less time than it takes to write it, however, the woman, who turned out to be the assistant housekeeper, Mrs Keene, was brought down the fire escape in safety. Almost immediately after this a man, who proved to be President Bogardus, of one of the Brooklyn street railroads, carried out his own trunk and deposited it on the sidewalk. George McCoy, another boarder, went back after some valuable papers, against the protests of friends, but came out successful. Fireman Gaffney had an epileptic fit from heat prostration, and two other firemen were prostrated.

The trustees of the Tabernacle met last night and decided to rebuild, but not on the same site. The insurance, the receipts and the money realized from the sale of the present site would enable them to pay off all their debts. Then, according to the plan, they would raise $200,000, and within a year would begin to build. About $750,000, it is thought, would be sufficient to pay for a site, and a less expensive building would be erected. It was decided that Dr. Talmage's tour around the world should begin tonight, as arranged. He will start in the evening for Philadelphia and proceed from there to Atlanta, Ga. After visiting some southern cities he will go to San Francisco, and sail from there to Honolulu, going afterward to New Zealand, Australia, India, Spain, England and other foreign countries.

Dr. Talmage held quite a reception at his home, No. 1 South Oxford street, during the afternoon, so great was the stream of sympathizers who called, among them Rev. Teunis S. Hamlin, of Washington. He had preached the dedication sermon of the building then burning some three years ago, and when he grasped the hand of Dr. Talmage he said:

"Doctor, you have my deepest sympathy, but you should not be so fiery."

The two men clasped hands for a moment, and then Dr Talmage replied:

"It is a blessing that only the building is gone; the work will continue, and we can all thank God that no life or limb is injured."

Dr Talmage made a graphic statement of the incidents connected with the fire. He said:

"At the close of the church service I was standing at the foot of the pulpit shaking hands with hundreds of people from all lands. I was about through and walked toward the center of the church, where my wife stood, when she called my attention to fire springing out from the top of the organ. I saw at once that it was under full headway, and my first impulse was to look around and see how many people were in the house, and to my great joy there were only about twenty people, and with twenty-five doors to get out through, I felt that they would escape. I then went into my study, back of the platform, passing under the blazing piping, to get my hat and coat, and with which I soon returned.

"There is mercy on top of the disaster. If it had occurred half an hour before it would have been the calamity of the century. The church and all the rooms adjoining were packed with people, and the panic would have left the whole scene one of indescribable horror. Or if it had occurred two or three hours later, when the Sunday school was in session, there would have been a thousand households bereft.

"Personally I feel not the least disappointment, none the less faith in God nor less of hope for the future. This long procession of disasters is inexplicable—like what occurs sometimes in a family, four or five dying from scarlet fever—it is inexplicable, we must simply accept the fact. Our church has been burned three times, and it has always occurred on a Sunday. It is a mystery that I adjourn till the next world shall let us know."

When asked for his own opinion as to the cause of the fire, he said emphatically: "Electric lights! Electricity caused this fire, as it did that of the last tabernacle on Schermerhorn street. It was some misarrangement of the wires. Electricity is a force that is only partially harnessed. It is one of the greatest agents of beneficence and power in the future, but just now it has the bit in its mouth and almost beyond our control. Electricity was undoubtedly the cause of the fire."

"Lost" Money Returned.

LANCASTER, Pa., May 14.—Henry Weill sent his clerk, Albert J Evans, to bank to deposit $1,065 a month ago. Evans said he lost the money on the way. The police a few days later threatened that unless the money was forthcoming within twenty four hours an arrest would be made. The next day Mr. Weill received a package by mail containing $965 of the missing money, and yesterday, by the same means another package containing the other hundred.

In 1871 he was appointed German minister to the United States. He was accredited to the Vatican in 1882 with a mission to negotiate with the pope an entente in regard to the Kulturkampf. He retired from the position in 1892 because of his relations with Prince Bismarck. Herr Von Schloezer was the author of several historical works.

Narrowly Escaped Lynching.

BUFFALO, May 14.—An Irish sailor named Joseph Dwyer came near being killed by a mob of Italians in the slums. While in a state of drunken hilarity made an uncomplimentary remark to some Italian women. Their husbands resented it and went at him. SUICIDE EXTRAORDINARY.

Two Little Tots Take Their Lives to Relieve Their Mother.

VIENNA, May 14.—A sad affair occurred here yesterday. A poor widow named Jerabek had two children, a girl and a boy, aged 11 and 9 years respectively. The woman was compelled to work hard to support herself and her children, who were too young to give her any assistance in the battle with grinding poverty. Young as they were, the children saw that their mother was handicapped by them, and they determined to kill themselves and thus relieve her of the burden of their support. They went to one of the bridges spanning the Danube and mounted the parapet. Then they hastily embraced and kissed each other, and clasping hands, jumped into the river. Before assistance could reach them their bodies were out of sight. When the mother returned from her work she found a note in which the children said that as they were only a burden to her they had decided to commit suicide. The widow is frantic because of the loss of her boy and girl, and it is feared that she will become incurably insane.

The Women's Fight Against Breckinridge.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 14.—The ladies are making an active personal canvass for the anti-Breckinridge mass meeting this afternoon. Rev J W McGarvey will deliver the opening address and some surprises are expected in the ladies who will be heard from. Some of the ladies go so far as to pledge their removal from the district in the event of Breckinridge being returned to congress. It is conceded by Breckinridge's friends that the crisis in his canvass comes today. If the meeting should be anything like the success anticipated the women's crusade will become epedimic over the district, and Breckinridge's friends will then recommend withdrawl.

The Great Northern Snarl.

ST. PAUL, May 14.—The situation on the Great Northern is unchanged. President Hill said that he would gladly receive President Debs, of the American Railway union, on his arrival here. At that time another conference will be held between the officials of the company and the employes' committee, and Mr. Hill expresses the greatest confidence in the result of the conference. Organizer Hogan, of the union, however, does not talk as if a settlement would be easily reached, and declares that if another tie up is ordered it will be complete.

Honoring Mr. Childs' Memory.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—The union printers of Philadelphia yesterday held a memorial service in honor of the late George W Childs. An attractive program was presented, and the Chestnut Street Opera house crowded with an interested audience. Eloquent addresses were delivered by James M Beck, Revs. W. N McVickar and J. T. Beckley and Colonel A. K. McClure. George Chance, president of the union, delivered the opening address, and Jacob Glaser, an ex-president of that body, spoke on "Mr. Childs and the Union."

Suicide by Inhaling Gas.

NEW YORK, May 14.—The body of a woman wrapped in a handsome silk dressing gown was found in a room in the tenement house at 1193 First avenue. A rubber tube attached to a gas jet showed the woman had committed suicide by asphyxiation. It is believed the woman's name was Mrs Fannie Wold, a German, 19 years old. Nothing more is known about her. The clothing the woman left shows that she had occupied a position superior to those of the surroundings amidst which she put an end to her life.

Vetoed by Governor Flower.

ALBANY, May 14.—Governor Flower got out two vetoes and gave them to the press yesterday. One was senate bill No 629, legislating out of office the four trustees of the New York and Brooklyn bridge, and providing for the appointment of their successors. The other was senate bill No. 739, to provide for the reorganization of the board of charities and corrections for the county of Kings. The governor denounces the bills as strict party measures, intended to replace Democrats with Republicans.

Stricken in the Pulpit.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—While Rev. John W Langley, aged 70 years, was preaching his sermon yesterday in the Emanuel Methodist church, Twenty-fifth and Brown streets, he fell from the pulpit, paralyzed on the left side. He was removed to his home, where his physician announced that, although the stroke might not necessarily prove fatal, Mr. Langley could never preach again. Mr Langley has been preaching for nearly fifty consecutive years.

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS

Waiting for the Decision of the Republican Senators' Caucus.

THE OPPOSITION TO FILIBUSTERING

A Large Number of Republican Senators, Together with Older Eastern Senators, Will Oppose Tactics Intended Only to Delay a Vote on the Amended Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The course of the proceedings in the senate this week will probably depend largely upon the result of the Republican caucus to be held tonight. The Democrats are hopeful that the caucus will decide upon treating the tariff in what they consider "a business-like" manner, and letting the bill proceed upon its course without as much speech-making and without the effort at delay which has been displayed by some of the Republican senators so far in the debate.

There is unquestionably a large element on the Republican side of the senate chamber opposed to any course which smacks in the least of filibustering. This element includes a large number of senators from the west, and also a sprinkling of the older eastern senators, who feel that they have a record to sustain against dilatory tactics. The younger New England Republican senators are, however, almost a unit in favor of continuing the fight upon the lines which have been pursued up to this time. They contend that no dilatory tactics have yet been resorted to, and that none are necessary, and they will make a strong plea in caucus to continue the program heretofore pursued in discussing the bill.

If the conservative element in the Republican ranks wins in the caucus the present agreement as to hours for debate will probably be observed. If the opposite party carries the day the Democrats will most likely renew their effort to extend the hours and to force the fighting. Senator Harris said today that in case there were many more calls for a quorum from the Republican side, or if long speeches be continued, he would renew his 10 o'clock motion, but he did not wish to do this as long as there was any possibility of holding the debate within legitimate bounds.

Upon the decision of the caucus will, therefore, depend whether the debate shall proceed in a comparatively orderly manner and the bill be disposed of with some dispatch or whether there shall be a general scramble over hours for debate, and with these changed a resort on the part of the Republicans to all the devices which this would permit to force the Democrats from their course, if not to delay the consideration of the bill.

Senator Aldrich said today that he expected the proceedings this week to be very much on the order of those of last week. He did not believe there would be an effort to change the hours, and he thought the entire week would be devoted to the chemical schedule, of which only seven paragraphs out of the seventy-five contained in it have been disposed of.

Appropriation bills will continue to have the attention of the house during the week unless the state bank element succeeds in its efforts to have the Brawley bill taken up Wednesday.

The Great Mine Conference.

CLEVELAND, May 14.—About a hundred coal miners who are to attend the conference to be held here today in advance of the meeting with the operators tomorrow have thus far arrived in the city. President McBride also arrived this morning. Not a single operator has yet arrived, and it is impossible to learn how many are expected. At one hotel twenty rooms have been reserved for operators, but that is the only place where quarters have been secured. The miners seem to regret the fact that more of them could not attend the conference, but they say that they have been out of work so long they have no money with which to pay railroad fare and hotel bills.

Brazil Revolutionists Unsuppressed.

BUENOS AYRES, May 14.—Advices have reached here to the effect that the insurgent forces, numbering 8,000 men, are concentrated near Bage, in the state of Rio Grande do Sul. Admiral da Gama will start for Lisbon in a few days for the purpose of explaining to the Portuguese government the conduct of the insurgents on board the Portuguese warships on which they escaped from Rio Janeiro.

Hungary's Prime Minister Will Remain.

VIENNA, May 14.—Dr. Wokerle, the Hungarian prime minister, as the outcome of lengthy conferences, has decided to remain in office, despite the rejection of the civil marriage bill by the Hungarian magnates. The bill will be reintroduced in the chamber of deputies this week, and will then be again sent to the magnates.

THE STRIKE AT PULLMAN

The Strikers Will Not Attempt to Prevent Others from Working.

CHICAGO, May 14.—An occasional visitor to Pullman yesterday would not have believed that the employes of one of the largest industries in the world were out on strike. The men accepted the advice given them to either attend church service or remain indoors, and very few of the strikers were to be seen on the streets.

The shopkeepers in the Arcade who heretofore allowed the men almost unlimited credit now demand cash for the necessities of life. It is the same in Kensington, and here the effect of the strike is more noticeable than even in Pullman. The most serious question which is agitating the minds of the men is, "Where is the financial assistance coming from?" They argue rightly that the American Railway union cannot assist the men as yet, for the great majority of them have only joined the union during the past week.

Another serious phase of the situation is, "Will Mr. Pullman allow the men to occupy his houses without paying rent?" Mr. Parend, assistant manager of the works, expresses himself rather freely on this question, and says that he is confident that the men must either pay rent or be put out.

The officers of the company are prepared for a long seige, they say, and have over 800 cars in the shops that are ready for use at a moment's notice, and the much mooted idea that the committee of strikers can tie up the company's cars on the railroad lines is received with ridicule.

"We cannot help but win this strike," said P. M Bender, one of the committee. "Mr Pullman will be compelled to come to our terms. It is nonsense on his part to say that the American Railway union cannot tie up the Pullman cars. We can do so, but we will only take this step as a last resort."

"Will the men allow any others to take their places at the works without any interference on your part?" was asked.

"Most decidedly," replied Mr Bender. "Mr Pullman can employ any one he likes, and before we will tolerate any violence from any of the men we will swear in 2,000 men to protect the works."

A Hundred Injured in a Fire Panic.

BRADFORD, Pa., May 14.—The barrel house at Emery's refinery in this city took fire, presumably by spontaneous combustion, and was destroyed. The loading racks and five oil tank cars standing on a side track of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg road were also burned. While thousands of people were watching the firemen a tank car holding 4,100 gallons of benzine let go with a mighty roar. Fortunately the burning benzine which was flung into the air in sheets of liquid fire had consumed itself before settling down over the crowd. The explosion was followed by a panic, and in the stampede men as well as women and children were thrown down and trodden over by the fleeing masses. Thirty-five firemen were burned so that the skin peeled off their faces and hands, and the hair was singed off their heads and faces. The total number burned and injured in the stampede will probably reach a hundred persons, but the property loss will not exceed $5,000.

Suicide to Escape Arrest.

NEW YORK, May 14.—The examination of Under Sheriff Pugsley, of Westchester county, was postponed yesterday until today. Pugsley was admitted in $2,000 bail furnished by Sheriff Duffy, of Westchester county. On Friday night last, Pugsley attempted to arrest in this city Joseph Schnellback, who shot Mrs Schelling in Westchester county last Tuesday. Pugsley drew his revolver and fired a shot at the same time Schnellback did. Schnellback was killed. An autopsy showed that Schnellback was shot by a bullet from his own revolver, and not by one from the weapon of Pugsley. It is believed the man committed suicide to escape arrest.

General Dechert's Death.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—Robert P. Dechert, brigadier general of the First brigade, National Guard of Pennsylvania, and ex-city controller of Philadelphia, died at the home of his brother, Henry M. Dechert, 3914 Walnut street, after a long illness. General Dechert's death was caused by a complication of diseases, chiefly of the stomach and the liver, and for twenty-four hours before he expired he was unconscious. General Dechert was 52 years old. He had a brilliant war record, enlisting when 19 years old and serving throughout the war.

Resigned to Avert a Scandal.

LONDON, May 14.—It is officially announced that the Right Hon A. J. Mundella, president of the board of trade, has resigned. Mr. Mundella, Sir John Gorst and Sir James Ferguson were recently summoned to appear before the queen's bench division of the high court of justice for examination as to the affairs of the defunct New Zealand Land company, of which they had been directors, and it is undoubtedly this fact that led to Mr Mundella's resignation.

COXEY IS NOT WELCOME

Citizens of Hyattsville Say the Commonwealers Must Go.

APPLICATION MADE FOR ARMS.

Companies Organized with the Avowed Intention of Preventing Meetings in the Streets—Browne Assumes a Defiant Attitude Which May Lead to Trouble.

HYATTSVILLE, Md., May 14.—Hyattsville is thoroughly aroused over the presence of about 500 Coxeyites, who were forced to leave Washington on Saturday. They are encamped in the picturesque grove known as Little Spa, just outside of the town limits. Serious trouble is expected at any hour, and last night three companies of volunteers were organized.

Adjutant General Douglas, of Maryland was wired regarding the procuring of arms and ammunition for the volunteers, but no reply has been received. The citizens are determined to drive the Commonwealers out of the neighborhood, and are prepared to use drastic means to accomplish that end. At a meeting held in Camp Coxey yesterday afternoon the citizens who antagonized speechmaking by Coxey and Browne in the streets of Hyattsville Saturday evening were severely denounced, and this has caused increased excitement in the town. Browne declared that in twenty-four hours he would speak in Hyattsville and says he will be heard in Blandenburg, a small town separated from Hyattsville by the eastern branch. The commissioners of that town are firm in declaring that he will not be allowed to speak. Thirty deputies are patroling the town of Hyattsville and Blandenburg.

Preparations have made at Camp Coxey for a long stay, and reinforcements from Galvin's, Kelly's and Frye's divisions are expected. Browne states that 5,000 men will be encamped here inside of five days. A large crowd of visitors from Washington and the surrounding country was present at the reincarnation services held at the camp yesterday. An admission of fifty cents was charged. Hyattsville has never known such excitement, and the town was crowded all day. Four of the Coxeyites were arrested in Bladensburg yesterday and locked up. The men, for the most part, again slept on the bare ground last night, but do not complain so long as Coxey stands by them. Coxey's power over his men is simply phenominal, and they declare that anything is good enough for them if Coxey is pleased.

Commonwealers Arrested.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—Michael D. Fitzgerald, of Lynn, Mass., leader of the New England Industrial army, Lani Kalangraff and Joseph Wembloth, both of this city, were arrested at a meeting last night for holding a socialistic meeting, and locked up in jail pending a hearing. The meeting was held apparently as an industrial gathering, but two policemen attended it in citizens' clothes, and they say that the addresses, which were made mostly in Russian, called the people to tear down the government and the militia and set the red flag waving above the White House.

A Stolen Train Surrendered.

LARAMIE, Wyo., May 14.—Sheffler's Commonweal army is encamped at Cokeville, in the western part of this state, and United States Marshal Rankin and deputies passed west through this city yesterday afternoon. The army has surrendered the train to the Union Pacific officials. It is believed that they heard of the trip of the marshal and deputies. The army numbers only about 150 men.

St. Paul Snubs the Industrials.

ST. PAUL, May 14.—The Commonwealers who were on Saturday refused an asylum at Minneapolis camped near Fort Snelling Saturday night and continued south yesterday. The leader, "Captain" Wilson, found St. Paul as hostile as Minneapolis. They camped last night at South St. Paul, where the people furnished them with a good supply of provisions.

Galvin's Cool Reception.

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 14.—Colonel Galvin's army rested last night on the green at Electric park, a high knoll overlooking the town. The army was met by the mayor and chief of police, escorted to the park and instructed to stay there until they were ready to leave. The reception of the army here was rather cool. Latrobe will be the next camping place.

Kelly's Slow Progress.

EDDYVILLE, Ia., May 14.—Kelly's navy made about thirty-five miles by the river measurement yesterday. The citizens of Eddyville furnished the army with 800 loaves of bread, 500 pounds of beef and two barrels of soup. At 1:30 p. m. the army broke camp and started for Oskaloosa.

"ADAMANT" WALL PLASTER!

The New, Cheap Substitute for Common Plaster.

It is very hard and very adhesive; it does away with the warping and shrinkage of doors and casings, and the building is not saturated with water, as it necessarily must be when common plaster is used; it costs originally but little more than lime plaster, and in the end its superior qualities make it immeasurably cheaper; it saves waiting several weeks or months for the building logs to dry out. It does not crack or fall off, even in the case of leakage, it is applied easily by any good plasterer, it is the only material with which repairing can be done neatly and to stay.

ON HISTORIC LIBBY HILL.

Richmond's Monument to the Confederate Soldiers and Sailors.

Hollywood Memorial day is to be made memorable in Virginia this year by the unveiling of a magnificent monument to the private soldiers and sailors of the Confederate army and navy on Libby hill in Richmond. The monument is a copy of the famous Pompey's pillar at Alexandria, surmounted by a colossal bronze statue of a Confederate soldier. The height of the column is 70 foot and that of the statue 16 feet, making the total height of the monument 86 feet. From its situation on Libby hill, a tall bluff rising from the James river, whence there is a splendid panoramic view of the surrounding country, it is observable for a considerable distance.

THE STATUE.

The pillar is composed of 18 massive stones, representing the 13 Confederate states, and the capital is handsomely and artistically carved. The figure is that of a typical Confederate soldier at rest, but yet alert and erect. In his right hand he grasps the barrel of his musket, the butt of which rests upon the stump of a tree beside him. His left hand clutches the strap of his canteen, which hangs at his hip. His rolled blanket crosses his breast from left to right, and there is a belt about his waist. He looks intently forward, as if ready for any emergency that might arise.

The statue was designed by William L. Sheppard of Richmond, and the casting was done in New York. The cost of the monument was mainly defrayed by popular subscriptions raised by a committee of 100 prominent Virginians, though the city council of Richmond donated the site and contributed $5,000 to the fund, and the state legislature made an appropriation of $3,200 for the Virginia stone.

HE WAS A POPULAR JOURNALIST.

Frank Hatton's Interesting Career in Business and Politics.

The news that Frank Hatton, editor of the Washington Post, had been stricken with paralysis, and the announcement of his death a few days later, caused sorrow among a very wide circle of friends. Mr. Hatton was exceptionally popular with newspaper men, among whom he was generally accepted as a sort of standard for all that is honest, vigorous and independent. He was a hard fighter, but always a fair one, and had few personal enemies even among those who felt his hardest blows. As a politician he was a Republican of the stalwart stripe, but his friendships were not circumscribed by party lines, and many prominent Democrats were proud of his friendship.

Mr Hatton was a native of Ohio and was born at Cambridge April 29, 1840. His father was for years editor of the Cadiz Republican, and Frank acted as devil in the printing office when only 10 years of age. He soon became foreman and then editor, but left his desk to enlist in the Union army in 1863, serving through the war and coming out with the rank of first lieutenant. In 1866 he and his father removed to Iowa, where they conducted the Mount Pleasant Journal until his father's death in 1869. Frank continued to edit the paper and was appointed postmaster of Mount Pleasant in 1871.

FRANK HATTON.

Then he went to Burlington and bought an interest in The Hawkeye, which he soon made an influential journal. He was made postmaster at Burlington by President Hayes, and in 1881 President Arthur appointed him assistant postmaster general. Upon the retirement of Mr Gresham from the postmastergeneralship Mr. Hatton was appointed to fill the vacancy. He was the youngest cabinet officer since Alexander Hamilton.

After retiring from office he edited The National Republican at Washington for awhile and subsequently the Chicago Mail, and in 1887 founded and for a short time edited the New York Press. Then he returned to Washington, and forming a partnership with Bernah Wilkins, formerly a Democratic member of congress, bought out The Post, which it is universally conceded he made the only thoroughly good morning newspaper that Washington ever had. Mr. Hatton leaves a charming wife and one son.

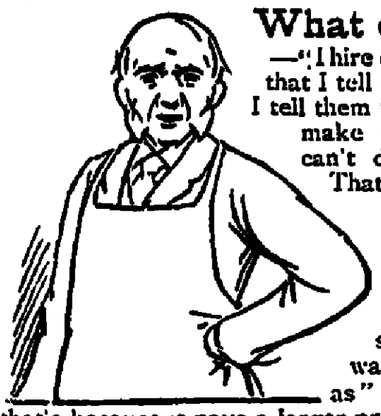
Doctors Should Be Sober.

The Arkansas state board of health has been given power to revoke the license of any physician who is guilty of habitual drunkenness.

What one Grocer says:



—"I hire clerks who can sell the goods that I tell them to sell—and of course I tell them to sell the goods on which I make the most money. If they can't do it, I won't have them. That's what I hire them for."

This is an actual fact related by a grocer to our salesman—and it's a common fact; we have it daily. So, you see, when they tell you that some worthless or dangerous washing-powder is "the same as" or "as good as" Pearline, that's because it pays a larger profit. Too large, altogether, if clerks can be hired on purpose to make people take things they don't want and know nothing of, instead of a tried and proved article like Pearline. If your grocer sends you what you do not order be honest—send it back. 391

HOW BIG WAS ALEXANDER?

"How big was Alexander, pa?"
No need quote any more;
How well we know the verses
And the moral that they bore!

The little boy was seeking
After knowledge, in his way,
And little boys are asking
Questions such as that to-day.

They are right. To know of great men,
How they live and work, will tell
How to follow in their fortunes,
How to win a place as well;

And the pictures and the stories
Of the great men still alive
Teach the youth of what to seek for,
How to study and to strive.

MOURNED AS DEAD.

A Missing Man Returns While His Wife Is Attending His Funeral.

Quite a sensation, if not a mysterious turn, has taken place in the identification of the body found in the canal at Bridgeport April 9, and the consequent preparation of the body for interment by Mrs. Kate Kurz as that of her husband, Fritz Kurz.

Mrs. Kurz, who lives in Philadelphia, fully identified the body as that of her husband, describing its personal peculiarities and marks before being permitted to see it. She at once ordered an undertaker to take charge of the body. Mrs. Kurz, attired in deep mourning, with three women, came here on Friday. The funeral was about starting from the morgue when a telegram signed "Waldrick" was received by the coroner stating Mr. Kurz is at Mrs. Davis' house alive. Mrs Davis was one of the two attending Mrs. Kurz in her bereavement. The latter could hardly believe the telegram.

The walnut casket containing the body was halted in its journey to the hearse. Every effort had been made toward saving Mrs. Kurz's husband worthy burial. On the casket were three floral pieces, a pillow with the words, "My Husband," a "Gates Ajar" two feet high, and a wreath bearing the inscription, "At Rest." Rev J. H. Neidman was in waiting at the Montgomery cemetery chapel to pronounce the funeral eulogy.

After a hurried consultation the undertaker went to Philadelphia. At Mr. Davis' house, with whom the Kurzes board, sat Fritz Kurz. He was just recovering his composure from the excitement and consternation his appearance had caused to a few female neighbors who were awaiting his wife's return from the funeral. He then related to the undertaker his first knowledge of his wife's errand, when, upon entering his home, he saw the strange occupants of the house fleeing in terror at his appearance. Surprised at their strange conduct, he inquired, "Where is Kate?" and the startling reply came, "At Norristown attending your funeral." Kurz informed the undertaker that he was in New York working at his trade, but owing to a disagreement with the boss came home.

The undertaker hurried home and informed the small band of mourners of the situation.—Norristown Special in Philadelphia Press.

INVENTORS BARRED OUT.

Only Flying Machines That Have Been Perfected Will Be Patented.

We hear a great deal from time to time in regard to new inventions which are coming out for the purpose of enabling a man to fly, either from efforts of his own or through the intervention of steam engines or other motors. It is interesting to note the attitude which the United States patent office has taken in regard to such inventions. They practically destroy all claims for flying machines beforehand, and the following is an abstract from what is practically a circular letter sent out to all attorneys who have made application for flying machine patents. It reads as follows:

"On taking up this case for examination it is found that the invention disclosed thereby is, as a whole, incapable of practical operation, since without the assistance of gas, field or equivalent the device will be incapable of ascension. In other words, it is not useful within the meaning of the law.

"No evidence will be considered sufficient to demonstrate the operativeness of the device and warrant the withdrawal of the objection made by the office except a working model—that is, one with which it is possible to actually ascend and direct the course of flight at will."

Thus it is practically useless for any inventor to make an application for a patent until he has actually succeeded in flying. It it barely possible that such a stand as this in regard to certain inventions would not be amiss, as there are more impracticable ideas patented than the world at large have any idea of. While it may be considered as a hardship by flying machine inventors that they are debarred from the protection of the patent office, yet until they have actually produced something which will accomplish the results claimed they certainly have no right to overlap the claim of protection on the patent office.—Aeronautics.

One of the Entombed Miners Elected.

Tom Picton was buried hundreds of feet in the ground in the Gayland mine, and he was on the ticket for school director. Knowing almost to a certainty that there was no chance of his being found alive, no one ventured to suggest that another name be substituted on the ticket. Every vote was recorded in his favor, and with a pathetic touch of human nature one of his neighbors said after the result was announced, "If he gets out alive, the office is his, and if the poor fellow is dead we have respected his memory."—Wilkesbarre Daily News-Dealer.

To Stop the Pilgrimage.

The French authorities have begun to exert strong pressure to stop the annual pilgrimages by Moslem inhabitants of north Africa to the prophet's tomb in Mecca. It recently came out that it is the custom on board cholera infected pilgrim steamers returning from Mecca to burn the bodies of the victims of the disease in the furnaces because it is forbidden to throw them into the sea.—Paris Letter.

NO MORE DAYS OF GRACE.

Governor Flower Signs the Bill Which Does Away with an Old Custom.

Governor Flower has signed the bill passed by both houses of the Legislature, which abolishes the old law allowing three days' grace for the payment of commercial paper, after maturity. It is claimed by the advocates of the bill that there is no reason for the existence of such a law; that it is the relic of an old custom among merchants which allowed a man three days to get around when the modes of travel were different from those of to-day.

The following is the text of the new law:

SECTION 1. All notes, drafts, checks, acceptances, bills of exchange, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness made, drawn or accepted by any person or corporation after this act shall take effect, and on which there is no expressed stipulation to the contrary, no grace according to the custom of merchants shall be allowed, but the same shall be due and payable, as therein expressed, without grace.

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

§ 3. This act shall take effect and be in force on the last day of January, 1895.

THE PRESIDENT COMING TO MIDDLETOWN.

The Sick May Receive Medical Services Free of Charge.

The President and members of the European and American Staff of German, English, Irish, Scandinavian and American Doctors of New York city will be at the Russell House, Middletown, on one day only. The sick and afflicted may consult them without charge during their stay.

Tuesday, June 12th,

If you are incurable they will tell you; therefore invalids must not take offence if they are rejected, as no case will be accepted unless there is a moral certainty of a cure being effected. These Doctors are graduates of the best universities of Europe and America; they are of the highest standing in the medical profession and have had unlimited experience in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases and Deformities. As the latest methods, instruments and appliances of the various schools of both the Old and the New World are familiar to and at the command of this staff of doctors, it is reasonable to believe that in ninety cases out of every hundred a cure can be effected, even when the patients have been given up as incurable by doctors who have had less experience. Do not be discouraged because your doctor cannot give you relief, or even if he tells you that you cannot get well, for it matters not what your disease may be, you can consult the doctors free, and, if curable, they will treat you; if incurable, they will give you such advice as will tend to prolong life and afford you the greatest relief.

The doctor will visit Middletown one day each month Office hours from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

YACHTING AT ATLANTIC CITY.

It Is Taking Tremendous Strides in the Famous Summer Resort.

ATLANTIC CITY, May 14.—The ascendancy which yachting as a sport has attained of recent days is something amazing in rapid development It has taken on in its fullest sense the nature of a fad To be in the swim under the new order of things one must necessarily provide himself with a boat, and attach himself to one of the several boat clubs There are races scheduled and races rumored galore that will keep all who have interest in the sport in a state of ecstatic pleasure after next month. The impetus which this kind of amusement has received is due to improvements in the way of canals leading from the inlet, the Eden of the yachting clientele, and the increase of accommodations in the shape of landings

The fever to possess a craft of the type in vogue is not confined, as would be supposed, altogether to the male element, but the ladies have shown a remarkable taste to participate in the aquatic amusement, and several of them are in possession of boats To own a private yacht in Atlantic City need not frighten any one as to expense. The boats are not of the size to play the elephant trick nor is the first cost so large as to place the luxury beyond reach of the average visitor, and admission is readily accessible to any of the three leading yachting associations, the Corinthians, Mosquito and Cricket fleets Commodore Harry Wootton, of the Corinthians, who is a young local attorney, said that an outfit, consisting of a boat and a pair of sails, can be had for $100 He is enthusiastic over the strides yachting as a sport is making to the front, and expresses the opinon that the coming summer will witness yacht racing one of the principal amusements

The United States Pipe line is an anti-Standard concern. The act is supposed to be in revenge for some real or imaginary grievance.

An Infant Hero.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., May 14.—The heroism of little Willie Ford, burned to death after saving his grandmother's life, is the theme of all praise today. She dressed hastily and left the house, but Willie had disappeared, having lost his way in the smoke Only his charred body could be found

DAILY ARGUS.

C. MACARDELL, PUBLISHER.

GEORGE H. THOMSON, C. MACARDELL, } Reporters
A. T. GORDON, City Editor
A. B. STICKNEY, Business Manager

MONDAY, MAY 14, 1894.

Lieut. Gov. Sheehan authorizes the announcement that he proposes to retire from politics and to devote his whole attention to the practice of law.

"Pains in the head resulting from an attack of measles complicated by cigarettes," are the reasons assigned for the suicide of a young man in New York, Saturday.

John Y. McKane's appeal from his conviction in the Kings county Oyer and Terminer will be argued at the General Term of the Supreme Court, in Poughkeepsie, this week. The appeal is on the preferred calendar.

Dr. Talmage and his congregation may with reason believe in the old superstition that thirteen is an unlucky number. Twice has the tabernacle been burned on a Sunday and both fires occurred on the 13th of the month.

Woman's sphere of usefulness is steadily widening. Another vocation, heretofore considered man's own, has been invaded by a woman. Miss Callie French, twenty-two years old, was licensed, Saturday, as a United States pilot on the Mississippi River. She is said to know the river thoroughly from St. Louis to New Orleans.

It may be worth recording as an incident in the whirligig of politics, though not in itself a matter of much consequence, that John Bigelow, for whom the Democrats voted for first Vice-President of the Constitutional Convention, supported Abraham Lincoln in 1860, while ex-Governor "Tom" Alvord, his successful Republican opponent, supported John C. Breckinridge, who was afterward the Confederate Secretary of War.—Daily Argus.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times says that prominent Republicans there are working up a Presidential boom for Senator Saxton. They regard him as an available candidate because being but little known outside of this State he will have no antagonisms to combat, and profess to believe that his services in behalf of ballot reform can be conjured with to win the support of delegates. It is more than likely that this talk of Saxton is merely a scheme for heading off the Presidential aspirations of Harrison, Reed and McKinley. Harrison's visit to New York is regarded as a hunt for support in 1896, and it is no secret that it causes uneasiness to many Republicans, who regard him as an unavailable candidate, and who are annoyed at his unappeasable craving for political honors. They do not consider Reed or McKinley strong candidates, and have taken up Saxton, not because they care for him or really desire his nomination, but as the most available man to put forward to prevent Republican sentiment crystalizing about the iceberg of Indianapolis.

THE O. AND W'S PROSPERITY

Increased Earnings and a Good Summer Business Assured.

From New Jersey Wall Street Journal.

Mr. Fowler, President of the New York, Ontario and Western Railway, says: "For the first time in several weeks our local business shows a slight improvement. The increase is principally from local merchandise, freight and local passenger business, and I consider this a favorable indication. Our earnings increased the first week in May $4 318 over those of the corresponding week last year.

Our summer travel promises to be large, as the hotels and boarding houses along our line have already booked more people than at this time last year. Probably the majority of persons are looking for the more moderate prices in less fashionable locations than heretofore. We have reduced operating expenses and have stopped all construction work, and this policy can be continued for a year without injury to the roadbed or equipment.

During the last eight years we have expended large sums in improving the road and its rolling stock, and consequently can curtail expenses very considerably without letting the property deteriorate. The quarter ending March 31 is the worst quarter in the year for all northern railroads, yet we reduced our expenses much below the level reached by reduced gross earnings, and after charging out all interest and taxes, have a surplus remaining for the first time in the history of this company for that quarter. I look for an improvement in gross earnings as well as in the net results for the balance of this year."

Col. Wood and Daughter Thrown from Their Wagon on East Main street.

About noon, to-day, as Col. J. D Wood, the C. and W. agent at Mechanicstown, and his young daughter were driving home through East Main street, the wagon seat tipped over backward, and both were thrown out upon their heads. The daughter was not injured in the least, but Col. Wood was rendered unconscious and was carried into a building, and Dr. Arthur P. Fowler was summoned, and decided that Col Wood was suffering from shock and administered a stimulant, which restored him to consciousness, and he was soon able to proceed to his home.

WIFE AGAINST HUSBAND.

A Suit for Separation and an Arrest.

Mrs. James Graham, this morning, through her attorney, D F. Chadsey, Esq., began a suit for separation from her husband, charging him with cruelty. She alleges that her husband used abusive language and threatened her with bodily harm, and she caused his arrest.

A VERY NARROW ESCAPE.

A Bicyclist, Run Into by a Wagon, Thrown Against an Electric Car.

The first really narrow escape from serious injury by the trolley cars occurred, Saturday evening, in front of the Central building on North street. A bicycle rider attempted to pass between a vehicle and one of the cars, when the hind wheel of the wagon caught the rear wheel of the bicycle, throwing the rider against the car, finally landing him on the car steps, from whence he fell into the street. He was injured about the back, and his hands were badly bruised.

The young man desires that his name shall not be used in connection with the accident, but is willing that the matter should be mentioned as a warning to other cyclists who might be equally careless.

How we can set up such a fine glass of Ice Cream Soda for 5 cents! Well, some things are done for profit, some for glory, and some just for advertisement. If you get into the habit of dropping into our drug store and find, as you will, everything there right in quality and price, why, we've gained a customer

The Soda Water is only the keynote—but it's clear, sweet and pure, typical of the high grade of all else we offer.

HOW TO FIT A TRUSS?

Well, that's one of the things to be learned only by experience. It's been one of our specialties for many years, and now it comes easy. Our prices, too, are like our trusses—easily borne. Some pretty steep figures have been asked for trusses not far from here. The victim ought to know better than to pay four times what we charge for as good an article.

THE MONUMENT DEDICATION

The Programme of Exercises—A Compliment to Mrs. Thrall.

The following programme has been arranged for the re-dedication of the Soldier's monument, in Thrall Park, at 7 o'clock, this evening.

1. Music.....Pioneer Band
2. Prayer.....Rev. Dr Wm. A. Robinson
3. Opening Chorus.....Hon. M. D. Sillers
4. Dedicatory Address.....C. H. Decker, Esq.
5. Music.....Band
6. Official Presentation of monument to care of Capt. Jas. A. Orrin, in behalf of the Soldiers Monument Committee.
7. Address of Acceptance.....Mayor W. E. Shansbury
8. Benediction.....Rev. Dr. Wm. A. Robinson

On account of the fact that the grass recently sown would be ruined by the crowd treading upon it, the audience will be expected to stand in Grove street.

As Mrs. Thrall, to whose generosity Middletown owes its park, is ill and cannot be present, the proposition was made to her to have the speaking from her stoop that she might hear and see all that occurred. She appreciated the compliment and expressed her gratitude, but at a late hour to-day was forced to decline, as she feared she could not endure the strain upon her nerves, and therefore the speaking will be from a stand in front of the monument.

COMMISSIONERS APPOINTED.

To Appraise the Value of Lands Taken for Water Purposes by the Chester Water Company.

Judge Brown, at a special term of the Supreme Court, in Newburgh, on Saturday, appointed as commissioners to condemn certain lands for the use of the Chester Water Company, Hon. R. O. Coleman, of Goshen; Supervisor John I. Bradley, of Wawayanda, and Supervisor John A. Patterson, of Woodbury.

The Chester Water Company secures its supply from Bull's Lake, in the town of Monroe and constructed a dam which caused the water to back up and overflow several acres of meadow belonging to J. Nelson Bull, thus rendering the land worthless for other purposes than a water shed. and Mr. Bull, through his attorneys, O'Neill & Royce, of this city, applied to the court for the appointment of a commission to condemn the land for water purposes and determine its value and assess the same.

The Water Company is represented by H. W. Yeaney, Esq., of Goshen.

THE ELECTRIC ROAD.

The First Week's Business—Heavy Travel Saturday and Sunday

The heavy travel on the electric road, Saturday and Sunday, was a surprise to everybody, the managers included. It was due in part to the fact that the children had been kept in school during the week and took advantage of the first day out to ride over the line, and of course many of their mothers made the trip with them. Another reason for Saturday's increased travel was that one of the open cars was put on for the first time, and many to whom the closed cars were no longer a novelty took a ride upon it.

In the evening it became necessary to put on a third car to accommodate the people. Two of these were run on the same schedule, about two blocks apart. Yesterday the cars were well patronized all day. It was everybody's holiday and people generally spent a portion of it on the cars.

The company calculates its day from 6 p. m. to the same hour on the following day, and while the number of passengers carried up to 6 p. m. Saturday was nearly up to the figures of the opening day, at 6 p. m., last evening, it was found that the number considerably exceeded that of the first twenty four hours.

An officer of the company estimates that the total number of passengers for the first week will exceed 12,000 very considerably.

A Ride to Glenmere and Return Yesterday

A party of twenty-one members of the Middletown Wheelmen's Club rode to Glenmere Lake, yesterday, and spent the day very pleasantly.

They left the Commercial Hotel at 9 a. m., and arrived at the lake at 11 o'clock. They were served with a fine dinner by Landlord Cable, who also gave them the use of his boats, and the time was spent until 3 o'clock in rowing on the lake.

The return trip was made by way of Chester and Goshen, and was made by most of the wheelmen in two and a half hours.

Contrasts at Church—A Dog Shot—To Visit Europe—Spinal Meningitis—The Gypsy Camp—The Musical Festival.

A truck was got and the suffering animal taken to the Orange Hotel stable. This morning it was still alive, but there was little chance of its recovery.

—Orange Lodge, I. O. O. F., will work the second degree on two candidates, to-morrow night. All members are requested to be present.

—The gypsy camp at Stewart's wood was visited by a big crowd from this village, yesterday. Many of them "crossed the palms" of the fortune tellers with silver and now know all about their futures.

SCHUBERT CLUB CONCERT.

A Musical Treat Assured for Thursday Evening.

A very attractive musical programme is being arranged for the concert of the Schubert Club, at the First Baptist Church, Thursday evening, of this week. Of Victor Herbert, the violincellist, who has been engaged by the Club for this occasion, the New York World says:

An admirably written and very interesting concerto of his own composition was played by Mr. Herbert, with so much beauty of tone and such skillful and brilliant execution, as to make his efforts not only entirely worthy of the high standard of performance of the Philharmonics, but so as to hold the audience bound in closest attention during the long solo.

A Graceful Compliment.

Church Life for May will publish a supplement containing a handsome half tone portrait and also a fac-simile letter of Wm. H. Nearpass, the author of "Old Deerpark Days," a series of genealogical sketches, which have been running in Church Life for several years and which are read with great interest in this region. The portrait is a speaking likeness of the original and its publication in Church Life is a graceful compliment to Mr. Nearpass.

Trying to Save Port Jervis's Y. M. C. A.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting the government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

I have gathered from her letters
That she struck a favored clime,
And my light and loving fetters
Vex her little at this time.

And I know—I've partly guessed it—
She's a raging, tearing belle—
For she has not quite confessed it—
And the life of that hotel!

And I feel safe in asserting
She is having royal sport,
Dancing, riding, sailing, flirting,
Posing on the tennis court.

And she's met a new adorer,
With more wealth than I can boast,
His attentions do not bore her,
For she's got him "cold on toast!"

But, as I forgive my debtors,
I forgive her—I'm no dunce!
Thus I've gathered from her letters,
For she hasn't written once!

The Old Brussels Carpet.

Oh, dear to our hearts are the sad days of springtime,
When the annual housecleaning recurs to our view,
When we sleep on the sofa and eat off the mantel,
In an atmosphere strongly suggestive of glue.
We think of the stovepipe, the soot that came with it,
Likewise the profanity, fluent and fine,
But saddest and bitterest of all recollections
Is the dusty old carpet that hung on the line!

Oh, that dusty old carpet,
That rusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That hung on the line!

We remember how, armed with a lithe flagellator,
In the morning we blithely advanced to the fray,
In the muscular pride of our heart little dreaming
That cleaning that carpet would take the whole day.
We sweat, and we swore, and our hands badly blistered,
While the sun lent his countenance warmly benign,
But the harder we pounded the more it was needed
By that dusty old carpet that hung on the line!

Oh, that dusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That cussedly old carpet,
That hung on the line!

The Fun That Adam Missed.

That Adam was a lonely man
I'm ready to believe,
Although his many days were blest
With nature's fairest Eve.
By maiden aunts and cousins fair
The man was never kissed,
And thus I often think about
The fun that Adam missed.

It seems to me his life was like
An oft repeated dream.
He never treated girls and paid
Three dollars for ice cream;
He never, when a little boy,
By grownup girls was kissed,
And when he died he never knew
The fun that he had missed.

He never went security
And had the note to pay;
He never saw his bank's cashier
Steal gracefully away.
In all his life he never by
A mother-in-law was kissed—
But why go on and 'numerate
The fun that Adam missed?

Perhaps if he was living now—
But, man, why speculate?
He'd be too old and not inclined
To play with fickle fate
For centuries the wanton winds
His unknown grave have kissed,
Perhaps he sleeps the better for
The fun that he has missed.
—New Moon.

Ad Infinitum.

One day an ardent youth whose whole heart burned
With feverish love that had not been returned
Sought an alchemist for the thing he yearned.

"There is a maiden's heart that I desire,"
Said he. "Good sir, a potion I require
To kindle in her breast love's fiercest fire.

"I'd have my soft approach breed in her cheek
The telltale blush. I'd have her gentle, meek.
Can you inform me what's the thing I seek?

"No other maid has any charm for me.
Without her love I'll perish quick," quoth he.
"Come, help me or I die extremity."

"Take this," replied the ancient patriarch,
Producing small b[illegible] with fluid dark.
"'Twill kindle love and thrust the proper spark."

The lover thanked him kindly and withdrew,
And swiftly to the maid he loved he flew,
But he was back in weeks that numbered two.

"I find," quoth he, "this is most wondrous stuff.
I'd like some more, for this is not enough."
"What," cried the old alchemist, in a huff,

"Does she not love you—long to be your bride?
What more do you desire?" The lover sighed.
"You little know the ways of men," he cried.

"The girl you mixed on was a winsome pearl.
She loves me but [illegible] I want this locale for another girl."

SHOTS HERE AND THERE.

AN "ARGUS" MAN OFF DUTY AIMS AT SEVERAL SUBJECTS.

Almost Run Down by a Reckless Bicyclist—A Very Marchlike May Day—A Wonderfully Trained Horse—Dry Weather.

A woman who was crossing Franklin Square, Saturday evening, narrowly escaped injury from a bicyclist who was riding at reckless speed without lamp or bell. Such incidents are of such frequent occurrence that it is hardly worth noting them, but if the Common Council does not take some action and pass an ordinance regulating the use of bicycles at night, the papers will have a first class item before long. What is needed is an ordinance forbidding riding at high speed in at least the central part of the city, and requiring that every bicycle ridden after dark shall be provided with a lighted lantern and a bell, the latter to rung whenever a crosswalk is approached.

Yesterday was a queer kind of a day for this season of the year. The early morning was simply perfect, warm and bright, with air so pure and fresh that there was health and vigor in every inspiration. As the day wore away a breeze sprang up, which grew steadily stronger, until by nightfall it was almost a gale. It veered and shifted from south to west, and so swept all the city's streets, filling the air with such clouds of dust that it was ruin for eyes and clothes and tempers to be out of doors. This was particularly the case in the evening, when the dust clouds were so thick that it was scarcely possible to see across a street, even if one risked his eyes in the attempt to do so. The flying dust spoiled all the pleasure of many people who drove out into the country, and the bicyclists who went on long rides were grimy objects indeed when they returned in the early evening.

A most interesting illustration of what can be accomplished in the training of animals is afforded by what is described as a talking and thought reading horse, Mezeppa, which is on exhibition at the Crystal Palace variety show in London, and of which the London Standard says:

Mezeppa seems to be able to do anything but talk, and by means of her feet and head to answer any questions put to her, either by her trainer (Mr. H. S. McGuire) or by any of the audience. She first starts counting four by striking the ground four times, then she goes through a simple examination in addition, multiplication and substraction with perfect accuracy. After calling for the number of months in a year, and the day of the month, Mr. McGuire asked her how many days in the week she desired to work, and her vigorous shake of the head to indicate none, caused much amusement. She also adds up a four line sum dictated from the auditorium, and written on a blackboard; tells the time by different watches, and performs many other remarkable feats, which bear testimony to the training powers of her owner, who was loudly applaud ed at the close of the entertainment.

Rain is badly needed. The warm sunshine and fresh winds of the past week have so dried the surface of the earth that farmers who have not finished plowing their corn land have had to stop the plow, while those who have planted their corn cannot expect it to sprout until rain moistens the ground. Grass on uplands is beginning to show the effects of the dry weather, and farmers are anxiously waiting for the coming of the "earlier and latter rains."

GAS EXPLOSION AT THE FREE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

An Inexperienced Janitor Investigates the Gas Pipes With a Lighted Match—Seriously Injured—Almost a Fire.

A mishap, that came very near proving disastrous, took place, last evening, at the Free Christian Church, on Linden avenue.

As it was, it provided lots of excitement for a time, happening as it did just as the people were beginning to assemble for service.

The church has just engaged Mr. William Johnson as janitor and last night was his first night. He went up in the audience room to light up, thinking he understood all about the gas arrangements In the pastor's room is the box where the gas is turned into the jets in the dome.

He lit a match and poked it into this box, that he might see to turn on the lever, when there came an explosion and the whole room immediately filled with blue flames. When the smoke had cleared away, Mr. Johnson was found lying full length on the floor unconscious.

The side of the choir loft and inner room is quite a wreck, the wall having all been shattered. The service was held in the lecture room in consequence of the accident.

It was thought at one time that an alarm of fire would have to be sent in as the woodwork caught fire, but it was extinguished by several men with buckets of water. Mr. Johnson is laid up to day, and spent a very bad night, but is able to be out again.

MONHAGENS AT CHURCH.

They Listen to an Excellent Sermon from the Chaplain.

The annual sermon to the Monhagens by their chaplain, Rev. William A. Robinson, D. D., was listened to by about thirty members of that organization, last evening, at the First Congregational Church. The Monhagens met at their truck house and marched to the church in a body.

Dr Robinson chose as his text the 21st verse of the 11th chapter of St. Luke: "When a strong man armed keepeth his palace his goods are in peace." He told them there was no palace more noble than the palace of true manhood, and after illustrating by numerous incidents the necessity of continued watchfulness against the enemy who is so adroit and wily, he explained that the only way to hold the palace of true manhood was to be strong in the strength that God can furnish, and advised them unitedly to fight for the advancement of true manhood in this community.

During the evening the doctor spoke of the 25th anniversary recently celebrated by the company, and the interest he took in the reminiscences of the past years as told on that occasion. The many noble deeds of the past he hoped would be the incentive for many more in the future.

What Will Do It?

MEDICAL writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will reach the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces.

The history of the efforts to treat catarrh is proof positive that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely,s Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. Our druggists keep it
